KCUE Holds 2025 University Regular Admissions Fair

- ▶ With 133 universities including Flagship National Universities, national and public universities, and leading universities in the metropolitan region.
- ▶ Personalized one-on-one meetings with admission experts from each university.

- On December 11, the Korean Council for University Education (KCUE), chaired by Park Sang-Gue, announced that it will hold the 2025 University Regular Admissions Fair at COEX Hall A in Samseong-dong, Seoul, from Thursday, December 19 to Saturday, December 21, with 133 universities from across the country participating (hosted by the University Admissions Fair Preparation Committee and organized by KCUE).
- At the 2025 University Regular Admissions Fair, students will have access to practical and specific advice based on the analysis of universities's selection results and students' college admissions test results.
- At participating university booths, faculty members involved in admissions, admissions officers, and university staff will provide personalized, one-on-one counseling based on the results of their selection process. The university's admissions policies and application information will also be available free of charge, along with detailed explanations of the university's admissions process.

- Special pavilions, such as the University Admissions Information Center, where students can directly search for admissions information for the university of their choice, will also be set up to provide a variety of information to help students prepare for university admissions.
 - University Admissions Information Center: Search services for university information, department information, admissions process, and previous year's admissions results from universities nationwide.
 - University Admissions Information Portal "Adiga" Pavilion: Information on how to use the next-generation university admissions application system "Adiga" and the common application system.
 - Public Disclosure of University Information Pavilion: Information on how to use the Public Disclosure of University Information service and demonstrations.
 - Korea Student Aid Foundation Pavilion: Information on national scholarships, student loans, and other scholarship opportunities and an overview of regional support centers.
- To purchase tickets, visit the University Admissions Fair website (<https://univexpo.kr>). Tickets can also be purchased at the fair. The fair will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., with the doors closing at 4:30 p.m. Tickets cost KRW 2,000. High school student groups are eligible for free admission, but must register in advance.

- As a follow-up service for students and parents, the Admissions Counseling Center will also offer telephone and online counseling by university admissions counselors from mid-December to early January 2025.
